COXEY ON THE MARCH

"Army of the Commonwealth" En Route to Washington.

LESS THAN A HUNDRED MEN.

Cold, Severe Weather, a Heavy Snowstorm,

But Little Fire and Less to Eat, Are Very Discouraging to the "Warriors," Their First Day's Experience Preparing For the Army Along the Route.

CANTON, O., March 26.—In the face of a sharp cold wind that brought shivers to the frames of well clad people, Coxey's army marched eight miles yesterday, on the road to Washington. There were a few less than a hundred of them. Not to exceed a dozen had overcoats or gloves. They had slept Saturday night on pallets of straw in the airy and cheerless circus tent at Massillon, and they had anything but an agreeable experience.

COMMANDER J. S. COXEY.

No fire was permitted in the big tent, but there was a heap of blazing logs outside. Every few moments the tips of the tent were parted by a soldier of the commonwealth, who visited the fire to drive away the chills. Soon he would hurry back to burrow in the straw for another nap and others would take his place.

The hobos in the party became known just before breakfast. They had soap. Some of them washed at the river brink, and others carried water in pails and heated it over the fire. They burned straw, and frolicked about like a troop of boys. A bugle call to breakfast brought them together at the tent with a rush. The bill of fare comprised bread, coffee and raw meat. The latter was affixed to the end of pointed sticks and roasted over the fire.

SECRETARY CARL BROWN.

One group of five ran away in a body after breakfast and boarded a passing freight train. Thirty of the commonwealthers spent the night as lodgers at the Massillon police station. They comprised two entire groups who could not be found when they were needed for picket duty. They were, however, on hand for breakfast.

At 8 o'clock Marshal Louis Smith, otherwise the Unknown, summoned the men to camp together and they were found to number 11 groups. They were organized into a commune. Smith drilled them on the meadows for half an hour. He has added several formalities of military discipline to the rules of the commonwealth. One of them is the plan of having them march in files of two, and a more surprising innovation is the adoption of military salutes. A man who shouted, "Here, Browne," at the California reformer half way across the field, was given a raking over by Smith. Among other things he said that the proper paper was to ask for Chief Marshal Carl Browne and salute when his attention is secured. Thus the despised military system is being introduced, even though companies are called communes and regiments communities. The 11 groups consolidated yesterday are called the Chicago commune.

Two hours before the time for departure, the tents were pulled down and preparations made for the trip. Outsiders were directed to leave the field and await the commonwealth on the main streets of the town. Camp wagons and saddle horses were brought in from Coxianna and the soldiers had a busy time of it.

A diversion was caused by a bulletin from Coxianna announcing that a steamer loaded with recruits from Canton had just passed that point. The steamer made the trip of nine miles in two and a half hours, but only a few men from Canton were enrolled.

The start from Massillon resembled the moving of an old time country circus more than anything else. There was no goddess of peace in the procession as Coxey had designed, his divorced wife refusing to permit her daughter to go with the army in that capacity. Coxey's son, Jesse, a boy of 16, was mounted on a blooded stallion from the stock farm, and wore a military uniform.

Browne and the other officers were similarly mounted, while the "general" rode in a phaeton behind one of his favorite horses. Mrs. Coxey, her 3-year-old son, and the housekeeper for the Coxeyes rode in a buggy. The rank and file of the army brought up the rear on foot, following the band wagon, which very much resembled a gypsy's traveling conveyance. The musicians did their best to enliven the soldiers and the many gay banners added fantastic elements to the pageant.

Before the start the noonday rations were dispensed. They consisted of a can of salmon and a loaf of bread for each group of five, and a small slice of ham for each man. This seemed to satisfy the men, and they marched away with light hearts and buoyant step.

About 3,000 persons assembled at the temporary camp at Reed's Run and a host greeted the crusaders at Canton. Last night they slept at Camp Lexington, in the eastern part of Canton. A heavy snowstorm set in before the details of the camp had been completed and the tramps were huddled around roaring campfires. About two-thirds of the men enlisted made the trip. Coxey has buried his disappointment over the nonappearance of the myriad he expected and is exultant over the handful who reported for business.

Police authorities here say that the army is largely composed of tramps who have been lodging in the city prison the greater part of the winter. Looking at the majority of them, no one would dispute the police verdict. If the warriors are not tramps they look it and in their present garb they will have a hard time convincing people to the contrary.

There was a sufficient quantity of food for supper, but it was not of a very appetizing variety. It consisted of coffee cooked in an open iron kettle over a bonfire, crackers, bread and canned fish, but most of the men took it without murmuring. There was nothing left for breakfast, but local Populists and Prohibitionists agreed to find the army that meal and they seemed satisfied.

Not one in 10 of the men have blankets. Fifty-two of the company applied at police headquarters for lodgings and were accommodated. Coxey stayed at the hotel, the guest of the landlord. Brown had a similar invitation, but declined, saying it was his duty to stay by his men. They deny the recruits are tramps, but claim they are unemployed workingmen who can't afford to dress better.

The town, until the weather became too severe, had a regular circus day appearance. The streets were thronged with people, many of them strangers. There was no disorder and no special police protection, although arrangements had been made to call out some reserve forces if the occasion warranted. Several small thefts, while people were at church, have been reported.

Streetcar service was doubled on the Massillon line and to the campgrounds, many visiting both places. At the camp they were kept at a good distance by ropes stretched around the grounds. A few recruits enlisted when the army arrived.

WILL COXEY DESERT THE ARMY?

A Rumor to That Effect and a Letter That the Army Will Disband.

ALLIANCE, O., March 26.—The followers of Coxey in this city were jubilant at first yesterday afternoon, after learning the number of recruits that started with the commonwealth army in its march, but they became disengaged later when told that most of the number were tramps. Mayor Excell has appointed 12 special policemen to assist the regular force when the army reaches here Tuesday. He said that while he did not apprehend any trouble whatever with the army, he made the appointment as a precautionary measure.

There is well defined belief that Mr. Coxey intends to desert the army here next Tuesday and go to Chicago on the evening express. Last Thursday, while returning from Pittsburgh, Coxey asked a railroad official of this city what time the evening westbound express was due to leave here. When informed that it left at 8:40, he said he would probably be compelled to go to Chicago Tuesday night as he had several trotters there that he wanted to sell at a horse sale on Wednesday. He said that he expected to return and take charge of the army again at Beaver Falls on Sunday.

Bets were offered in the hotels here last night at 2 to 1 with no takers that the army would disband before they reached Pittsburgh.

Coxey Not a Wealthy Man.

MASSEY, O., March 26.—In contradiction of the generally accepted belief that Coxey is wealthy, Massillon people here told those who came here within the past few days, that his property is heavily encumbered. The reports culminated, last night, in the statement that Coxey will be obliged to pay a heavy mortgage on the stallion Acolyte by next Wednesday or suffer foreclosure. He bought the horse from Colonel James E. Pepper of Kentucky for $40,000, and paid $18,000 cash.

A son of Colonel Pepper was in Massillon last month and gave notice so the report goes, that ample security would have to be given for the debt of $4,000 or there would be legal proceedings on Wednesday. The mortgage is said to include much of Coxey's property, as well as the horse.

MILITIA MAY BE CALLED OUT.

PENNSYLVANIA AUTHORITIES PREPARING TO MEET THE ARMY AT THE STATE LINE.

PITTSBURG, March 26.—The Dispatch prints a story to the effect that the Shordian troop of Tyrone, a portion of the Tenth regiment and Battery B of Pittsburg, handling the Gatling guns, have been ordered to prepare to meet Coxey's army at the state line near Beaver, Pa. The movements of the soldiers at that point will depend entirely on the fact whether or not the army had passed peacefully through Ohio.

Captain Hunt of Battery B was seen, but would not talk officially on the subject. It is known that Adjutant General Green was in the city on Thursday, quietly investigating the situation, and while here was in consultation with the militia officers ascertaining the sentiment of the people in regard to Coxey's threatened invasion. It is also known that officers of the different companies have ordered their men to be in readiness for a sudden call to duty.

NOT TILL THE FIRST OF JUNE.

The Tariff Bill Will Not Be Disposed of for Over Two Months Yet.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Inquiry among Republican senators as to the policy they will pursue with reference to the tariff bill when it shall reach the senate, develops the fact that they are as yet undecided as to whether they will move to recommit the bill upon the commencement of the debate next Monday. This was the first plan when the bill was received from the house and the Democratic majority of the finance committee refused to grant hearings, but there are indications that they have reconsidered, and will not move in this direction, at least not at the beginning of the debate.

There is no indication, however, that they have abated the purpose of contending for every point of advantage and forcing, if possible, full debate on every proposition contained in the bill. They expect the general debate to continue for at least a month, and hope to have every schedule discussed paragraph by paragraph afterward. Some of them intimate that they consider it may be possible by this course to delay action, so as to render it impossible to pass upon the bill during the present session.

The purpose of the Democrats is to permit the Republicans to do the greater part of the talking. There will be comparatively few general speeches upon the bill on the Democratic side of the chamber if the members of the finance committee can control the matter; some of the members of this committee announced that they will not make speeches upon the bill while it is being considered as a whole, and announced that their policy is not to lead into unnecessary debate upon the various schedules.

They say that they will make explicit statements of their reasons for the various changes and then refrain from further discussion of them, however much they may be baited by the Republicans. After these shall have been sufficient time for legitimate debate, they will probably ask for continuous sessions. The Democratic members of the finance committee think the bill can be disposed of by the 1st of June.

GOVERNOR WAITE NOT SUSTAINED.

The Supreme Court of Colorado Says That He Exceeded His Authority.

DENVER, March 26.—The supreme court has sent the fire and police court case back to the district court. The question presented to the court by the governor, asked who were the legal members of the fire and police board. The unanimous opinion of this court is that this question must be determined by the district court. This decision is against the governor, for it does not answer his question and leaves the matter where it stood when he called out the militia over a week ago. The grounds upon which the opinion was rendered is that the court has no jurisdiction.

Considerable uneasiness was caused by rumors that the governor had threatened to take the matter into his own hands in defiance of the supreme court. A subcommittee of the committee of safety waited upon the governor and discussed the situation with him quite fully. Neither the governor nor the committee members would divulge the results of the interview, but it is known the committee strongly advised the governor to abide by the decision of the courts, warning him that another resort to arms would not be tolerated. The committee of safety, already a formidable organization, is, in effect, a vigilance committee, whose business it will be to attend to any individual or faction responsible for any riotous proceedings, calculated to bring disgrace upon the state.

AN OLD QUARREL RENEWED.

Negro Festival Ends in the Killing of One Man and Wounding of a Woman.

WASHINGTON, Mo., March 26.—Early yesterday morning an old quarrel was renewed between James Torand and Henry Roberts at a negro festival in James Fowler's house, in South Point, a small town one and a half miles east of here, on the Missouri Pacific railroad. The trouble was over Ida Sanders, a negro girl.

Roberts, one of the most quarrelsome and dangerous negroes in the country, pulled his pistol and shot at Torand, but missed him and hit a woman in the arm. Torand then pulled his pistol and shot Roberts three times, two balls taking effect in his neck and one in the side of his head, killing him instantly. Torand made his escape, and has not been heard of since. Roberts was 37 years old and leaves a widow and young baby.

Dent of a Pioneer Priest.

OMAHA, March 26.—Rev. James G. Ryan, one of the pioneer Catholic priests of Nebraska, died at his priestly residence attached to St. Philomena's cathedral early Sunday morning. He was in his usual good health when he retired. At 11 o'clock he complained of feeling unwell and at 2:30 he was dead. He had labored in Nebraska since 1861.

An Entire Family Burned to Death.

LONDON, March 26.—On Saturday night a paraffine lamp exploded in a dwellinghouse in the Clerkenwell district. The house was set on fire and Mr. and Mrs. Croger and their three children were burned to death. The members of another family in the house were rescued with great difficulty.

NOT HELD RESPONSIBLE.

An Old Man Murdered in His Own Home by His Daughter and Wife.

HOMER, Ga., March 26.—J. F. Willis was killed last week by his daughter Lillian and his wife. The news of the tragedy did not leak out for several days, until a son, Francis, 11 years old, told it to neighbors. The daughter and mother were both arrested and given a preliminary trial.

The boy testified that his father came home from work about dark and called for his supper. After beginning to eat his meal, a difficulty arose between the father and mother, but the former sat down before the fire, when Lillian, a girl about 15 years old, struck him with the ax, cutting a gash in his skull. Willis drew back his head and the mother took the ax from the girl and cut him across the throat with it. Willis died a few minutes later.

The girl says she struck the blow with the ax after having cut her father's throat with a razor, while Willis was choking her mother to death. After drawing the razor across the throat of her father and seeing that he was not dead, she picked up the ax and finished him. Her plea was that she did the deed to save her mother's life. The jury, after being out for some time, rendered a verdict of not guilty.

DROPPED INTO THE SEA.

Wilton, the Aeronaut, Meets Instant Death

in the Mediterranean.

CANNES, March 26.—An immense crowd gathered here yesterday to witness a balloon ascent by the aeronaut Wilton, who is well known in America. No car was attached to the balloon, and Wilton ascended hanging to a rope. When 1,500 feet high, the balloon was caught in a current of air that carried it rapidly seaward. It was apparent that Wilton could not control the valve at the top of the balloon, which, had it been opened, would have allowed the gas to escape and the balloon to gradually descend.

For some unexplainable reason the aeronaut let go his hold of the rope from which he was dangling and his body shot down into the sea with frightful velocity. The accident occurred in full view of the spectators, and a number of women in the crowd fainted away. A number of pleasure boats hurriedly made their way to the place where Wilton had fallen, and after a short search his body was recovered. His death must have been almost instantaneous.

KILLED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

A Mine Superintendent Murdered and Robbed of His Money.

LLANO, Tex., March 26.—Saturday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock Captain H. Dunn, superintendent of the Olive iron mines, while going from this place to the mines was murdered by highwaymen about six miles from Llano and within two miles of the mines. He drew about $800 Saturday out of the Iron City National bank to meet his weekly payroll, and started for the mines. This was the last seen of him alive.

Captain Dunn's body was found lying in the road. The robbers also secured Dunn's watch and revolvers. There were from two to four men implicated in the affair. Sheriff Logan was notified of the deed and is now on their track. It is only a matter of a short time when he will have them in custody. The captain came to this city about 12 months ago from Birmingham, Ala.

MURDERED BY AN ITALIAN.

Transfer Agent at Rochester Junction Meets an Untimely Death.

ROCHESTER, March 26.—Spencer Howe, aged 32 years, the United States Express company's transfer agent at Rochester junction, was murdered Saturday afternoon by an Italian named Nicolo Denardo. The place where the crime was committed is a camp used as a congregating place by Italians, who are employed on the New Hemlock lake.

Howe's brother-in-law, M. Ketcham, who is a farmer, had been at the Italian camp drinking and a fight ensued. Howe was at the station, and hearing that his brother-in-law was being whipped, hurried to his assistance. The foreigners pitched on Howe, and Denardo stabbed him in the back with a dirk. Howe staggered down the embankment and fell dead. The murderer fled to the woods and has not yet been captured.

COUGHED UP A BULLET.

Which Had Been Imbedded in His Neck Thirty-One Years.

LYNN, Mass., March 26.—Augustus S. Sutherland, veteran of the civil war, was seized with a coughing fit during which he ejected a pistol bullet which had been imbedded in his neck for the past 31 years. For three years he has been under the care of a physician, who has been treating him for a supposed cancer in his neck and an operation was to have been performed within a few days.

During the battle at Culpepper court-house on Oct. 11, 1863, Mr. Sutherland was wounded in the back of the neck. He was taken a prisoner soon after and confined in Libby prison for several months. The wound healed without being examined by a physician, and the bullet remained in the neck. The physicians now admit that the bullet was responsible for the cancer symptoms.

DANVILLE, Ills., March 26.—The engineers, firemen and trainmen of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway held their regular meeting here yesterday. The matter of the new schedule offered by the officials of the road in which there is a slight reduction of wages, was discussed. It was decided to leave the final determination of the matter with the committees which will meet the heads of the various railroad labor organizations in Chicago.

Extreme Cold Weather in Michigan.

DETROIT, March 26.—Disasters from various sections of Michigan reported the temperature last night at far below the freezing point everywhere. The thermometer registered 10 degrees at Sault Ste Marie, 12 at Alpena, 16 at Grand Haven, and 20 in Detroit. The temperature is below freezing as far south as Tennessee and northern Arkansas. The cold wave in Michigan is accompanied by northwest winds and light snows in some portions. Fruit growers will suffer almost universally.

WORK FOR CONGRESS.

Probable Program of the Senate and House.

NOTHING STARTLING EXPECTED

The Week in the Senate Will Be Given Up Large to Matters of Minor Importance. While the Time of the House Will Be Taken Up With the Contested Election Cases.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The probabilities are that the week in the senate will be given up largely to matters of minor importance. The McGarran bill is on the calendar as unfinished business and will have the right of way after 2 o'clock today. There will be an effort made to dispose of this bill before the close of the week, and Senator Hansbrough has given notice that he will again call up the Russian thistle bill immediately after the disposal of the McGarran bill. Senator Dolph also intends to make an effort, if given opportunity, to have the bill for the relief of certain settlers on the public lands considered.

The fortifications appropriation bill is now on the calendar and in position to be taken up for action at any time. Senator Harris may also move in accordance with notices given for a reconsideration of the printing bill, but it is presumed that his action in this matter will depend upon the attendance of senators, many of the friends of the bill being now absent.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer and some other papers are making us big fools of themselves over Crank Coxey and his Commonwealth business as Coxey and his fellow cranks are.

EX-Secretary FOSTER will not be able to pay his creditors 25 cents on the dollar, and yet he goes ahead criticising the financial policy of the administration just as if the people placed a one-hundred-cents-on-the-dollar valuation on his opinions, says the New York World.

THE Portsmouth Times, commencing this afternoon, will hereafter issue a daily edition. The Times is one of the brightest and best papers in the Ohio Valley, and being the only Democratic journal at Portsmouth will no doubt prove a success from the start as a daily. As a weekly it has always prospered.

THE St. Louis Post-Dispatch condenses the entire argument thus: "A high tariff corrupts elections, makes employers greedy, glutts home markets, creates trusts, closes mills and factories, cuts off our foreign markets, crowds the labor market, brings on strikes, overtaxes the poor and deadens the moral sense of the Nation. Why stop to debate such a monstrosity?"

PERSONAL.

Miss Sue Gibson, of Salem, Mo., is visiting Mrs. E. A. Robinson.

Miss Carrie Barkley, of Covington, is a guest of Miss Belle Barkley.

Miss Bettie Welsh, of St. Joseph, Mo., is the guest of Miss Margaret Finch.

Miss Bessie Owens returns to school at Avondale, Cincinnati, this afternoon.

Mrs. Johnson, of Germantown, is in town visiting her son, Mr. W. C. Johnson.

Mrs. Alice Boyd, of Minerva, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Pickrell, of East Second street.

Mrs. C. B. Pearce, Jr., and children, have taken up their residence at 118 East Second, Covington.

Mrs. Emile Frey was called to Cincinnati Sunday by the death of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Carolina Frey.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Frank Fraze, of Lexington, returned home Saturday after a visit at Dover and Minerva.

Editor Duely, of the Times-Democrat, was down from Flemingsburg Saturday, visiting his brother, Mr. John Duely.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Green, of Danville, are here to attend the golden wedding of Hon. James Barbour and wife.

Mr. Oscar McDougle, who has a run on the C. and O. as messenger for the Adams Express Company, spent Sunday with his parents.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "Mrs. Herbert Reno and baby, Frances, are spending Easter with Mrs. Reno's mother, Mrs. Phister, in Maysville."

Assistant editor Daum, of the Higginsport Enterprise, and Captain Taylor, of the new packet, Enos Taylor, called on the BULLETIN Saturday.

A "CALAMITY HOWLER"

Admits That the Business Outlook is Brightening—Bad Reports Have Been Exaggerated.

The Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette prints three columns of facts to prove that business is brightening, and that is quite a clever and heroic piece of work for a calamity organ to engage in, says the Ashland News.

The Commercial Gazette states that three-fourths of the regular force in the iron and steel mills and factories of Allegheny are again employed, and the unemployed class will shortly be in the old places.

A significant feature of this review is the statement of the President of the Flint Glass Workers' Union, who is quoted as saying that the reports of the number and state of the unemployed have been greatly exaggerated. Common sense has overtaken some of the "calamity" organs at last, but the cost of their declarations will never be known.

And the Cincinnati Tribune, another Republican journal, had something Sunday on the same subject. It said: "The trend of opinion is that the tide has turned, that the gloom of the evil days has gone with the gloom of the winter. The mere fact that values have stopped declining is, in itself, a ray of hopefulness. That some things have taken an upward start is a still better indication."

"Not so long since discouragement was over all. Confidence between merchant and merchant, between banker and borrower, was entirely absent. The financial situation was clouded with uncertainty. Personal energy was wanting and no one had sand enough to attempt to check the downward tendency so unfortunately manifest in every direction.

These symptoms characterized the past; the present is characterized by hopefulness. All other bright indications will follow in its train."

Only $1.50 Round Trip.

Don't forget the C. and O. excursion to Cincinnati Wednesday, March 28th. Tickets good going on all regular trains of March 28th, and good returning on special excursion train leaving Cincinnati (Fourth Street Depot) 11:30 p. m. the same day; also on trains 2, 18 and 20 leaving Cincinnati 8 a. m., 2:15 p. m. and 5:15 p. m. Thursday, March 29th. Great attractions at all of the Cincinnati theatres, the greatest of which is James J. Corbett, in "Gentleman Jack" at the Walnut. Don't miss it.

Recovered His Speech.

A special from Dover says: "James Pretlow, an old soldier, aged fifty-two, has recovered his speech after being deprived of it for over four years. In January, 1891, Pretlow became suddenly dumb while sitting in a grocery. One night last week, about 11 o'clock, his wife was awakened by a yell from her husband, and was astonished to hear him call her name. The gift of speech so suddenly taken from him had, after many years, returned. Pretlow talks as usual, although he has very little control over his voice."

A Cold Wave.

A cold wave struck this section late Saturday evening, and the temperature dropped to the freezing point during the night. There was ice Sunday morning. This morning it was still worse, as the thermometers registered twelve degrees below freezing.

Early vegetation and the fruit are undoubtedly seriously damaged. Many trees were in full bloom, and much gardening has been done.

Death of Mrs. Carolina Frey.

Mrs. Carolina Frey died Friday at her home, 447 Vine street, Cincinnati, aged sixty-seven years. She was the widow of the late Baldus Frey, of this city, and resided in Maysville up to a few years ago. The funeral occurred this morning at St. Ludwig's Church, Cincinnati, and the remains will be brought here today for burial.

The Modern Mother.

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Fiscal Court.

The Fiscal Court, heretofore known as the Court of Claims, will convene Tuesday, April 3rd. Quarterly Court will meet the Tuesday following.

Under the new Constitution there are two terms of the Fiscal Court each year, one in the spring and one in the fall, April and October.

The Dancing Wonders.

The Ravey Sisters, will positively appear here with the American Vaudevilles. These young ladies made a decided hit during the company's long stay at the Empire Theatre, Chicago, and in novelty dancing they are said to be unequalled.

WONDERFUL

A GREAT REVIVAL.

What a Charleston Pastor Says of Evangelist Fife's Work.

Many Were Converted and Churches Were Strengthened—Hear Him When He Comes.

A protracted meeting will be inaugurated at the First Baptist Church Wednesday evening by W. P. Fife, who is known as "the drummer evangelist."

Most of the churches of Maysville will unite in these revival services, and great good will undoubtedly be accomplished. A choir of forty or fifty voices composed of singers from various congregations will furnish the music. As heretofore stated, Mr. Fife recently closed a big meeting at Charleston, W. Va., some account of which has been published. But a writer in the Nashville Christian Advocate goes into details. He says:

The arrangements for his (Mr. Fife's) coming were made by Brother Shipman, a layman of the Baptist Church; but the movement was endorsed by representatives of the other denominations. Mr. Fife opened the meeting on Sunday morning, January 14, in the court house, under the auspices of the Southern Methodist congregation, holding services there while they are rebuilding. Again at night in the same place. Monday morning and night and Tuesday morning in the Baptist Church. But that being entirely too small, the court house was secured for permanent meetings. The crowds increased until there was not even standing room, and many were turned away from every night service.

Morning and night, with prayer meeting intervening, services were held until Friday, January 26. Merchants closed their stores, bankers left their business, farmers stopped their work, and laborers found time to attend every service. About 300 persons made profession of religion. One-third of these, perhaps, were already nominal members of the church. All classes were represented, all denominations participated, and the churches in town and country were greatly revived and strengthened. A remarkable coincidence of church unity was seen in the chief instrumentalities. Mr. Shipman, who secured the evangelist, is a Baptist; Mr. Fife, a Presbyterian; Mr. Ramsey, Mr. Fife's singer, a Methodist, and Mr. McKesson, who afterward joined Mr. Fife, an Episcopalian. Never was there such a religious awakening in this old county. The Christian people are thoroughly awakened and still at work. One marked feature of this revival is the family altar erected in many homes where never before established. Prayer meetings have been started at which people are still converted. The Christian women are working with will. One Presbyterian woman has started two Sunday schools in her own house, one for white children and one for colored. When the entire church of all creeds awakes to personal work for the Master, how long will it be until the great gospel reaches "every creature?" Can the great commission be fulfilled before this is so? I have some thoughts and theories on evangelists, especially lay evangelists—for these brethren are all laymen—but being only an humble pastor, utterance may not profit the public. Enough to say, he emphasized the Word and the Spirit: he had faith in these.

Here is what the pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Wilson, N. C., says of him:

I have had ample opportunity to judge Mr. Fife, his method and the results of his work. As a man he is humbly earnest, preaches the pure word of God, in which he is thoroughly versed, has an intense faith in the efficacy of prayer and the power of the Spirit, plain, candid, sincere and fearless with all classes. His methods are simple and thoroughly evangelical. He refuses undue excitement. Explains to the inquirer the seriousness of the step he is about to take and insists on serious thought and calm deliberation. His visit to Wilson resulted in 200 conversions to the different churches.

Mr. Fife for a number of years was a very successful mercantile drummer. While making his rounds he chanced to hear Evangelist Rev. Mr. Pierson and was converted. Since that time he has been drumming with the same zeal and success for his Master. He has seen the world and knows just how to speak to the sinner. Go and hear him at the Baptist Church, beginning Wednesday night, the 28th.

A song and prayer service will be held at the Baptist Church to-night and to-morrow night at 7:15 o'clock, preparatory to the commencement of the revival. All cordially invited.

Mr. Maloney, who will conduct the song service at Mr. Fife's meeting, will arrive to-morrow, and will be present at the service to-morrow night.

The doctor has just completed the erection of a handsome new office.

His many Maysville and Mason County friends will be glad to learn of his success.

ON Friday Governor Brown finished consideration of all the bills left by the late Legislature. Two more vetoes were registered. The first bill vetoed was an act entitled "An Act to Amend Section 28 of the Criminal Code of Practice." The ground of the veto is that the operation of this would unsettle a long line of precedents and also cause great confusion in practice. The other is an act relating to persons whose lands have been sold for taxes. It extended the period for redemption one year, and is vetoed on account of constitutional defects.

COMING VISIT, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11th.

One Day, THU 3:30 p. m.

DR. APPLEMAN is a graduate of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York City, and has seven years experience in the great hospitals of that city. His wonderful work—have caused the old fogey doctors of the State so much uneasiness that for the past two years they have done all in their power to stop his practice. Shall the sick remain sick, and the suffering continue to suffer? Yes, says the general practitioner, rather than let Dr. Appleman help you. NO, says Dr. Appleman.

Come to Me and Be Cured if it is in My Power to do it.

John Whittington, 216 N. Walnut street, Maysville, says: "I have tried seven doctors and none have done me any good. They have not worked for six months. I am now able to work after one month of your treatment."

The doctors are astounded, and ask, "What is he doing?" Is that enough?

H. H. King, Helena, M. D., Cord, Flemingsburg, Chas. Asbury, Maysville, L. L. Wells, Helena, and fifty others can and do speak of the good Dr. Appleman is doing. Consult this eminent Specialist on his coming visit. He treats

AFFAIRS IN BRAZIL.

They Have Resumed Their Normal Aspect Again.

PEACE REIGNS AROUND RIO.

All Traces of Warfare Have Disappeared and the Past Week Has Been One of General Festivity—Business Improving. Admiral Benham's Actions Will Help American Merchants Dealing at Rio.

RIO JANEIRO, March 26.—[Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press.]—Affairs here are rapidly resuming their normal aspect, and aside from the damage done to the forts and along the water front by the fire from the insurgent warships all traces of warfare have disappeared. The past week has been one of general festivity, marked by the constant firing of salutes and the holding of reviews. The usual religious processions were held and the church services were very largely attended.

For months passed the city was filled with troops, and almost everything partook of a military character. Now the troops, or at least by far the greater number of them, have gone south to reinforce the government armies in the states where the insurgents are still opposing the federal authorities. The harbor has been deserted by all the foreign warships, and the loading and discharging of merchant vessels are proceeding as before the revolt.

The government entertains no fear of much further trouble in the south. The insurgent sympathizers claim that the placing of Admiral Mello at the head of the provisional government will attract many persons to the rebel standard, but the government here believes that the insurgent forces will gradually melt away until nothing remains.

The government has 12,000 men at Itarara and more at Sao Paulo, and these forces are believed to be more than sufficient to meet any that the insurgents can bring against them.

It is reported here that the rebels are already retreating from Rio Grande do Sul, and it is thought that by the time the government reinforcements arrive there, there will be no enemy for them to engage. At any rate, it is declared by the government officials, who are in a position to know the exact position of affairs in the south, that no battle of consequence is likely to occur.

Business in Rio Janeiro is rapidly reviving. This is especially true in case of houses dealing with American merchants. It is the general opinion here that the attitude of the United States during the trouble here will result in a material increase of the business done with that country.

There has, of course, been much talk concerning the flight of Admiral Da Gama and his officers on board the Portuguese warships. Most of what has been said in this connection, particularly about trouble between Brazil and Portugal growing out of the asylum afforded the insurgent officers by the commanders of the Portuguese warships, was simply a bluff. At no time since the affair has trouble been likely.

The story to the effect that the police were arresting many foreigners suspected of being concerned directly or indirectly with the revolt is a gross exaggeration. As a matter of fact the police have arrested no foreigners for this reason. Whatever arrests have been made were simply for violations of the laws, arrests that are likely to occur at any time. It can be pointed out that not a single foreigner of importance has been molested, let alone arrested.

The correspondents of the various American newspapers have left the city en route to their homes or are making preparations for their departure, which is evidence that the trouble is over, so far as Rio Janeiro is concerned. There may be some news of importance later from the south, but the consensus of opinion is that the trouble there is also practically over.

Nearly all of the Americans who were of the crew of the dynamite cruiser Niethercy have left for the United States.

Martial law continues to be enforced here, but this fact has little or no effect upon the business of the port.

The government has fleet been ordered to proceed south at once. It is thought, however, that these orders will be countermanded. The whereabouts of the insurgent warship Aquidabam is not known here.

PRENDERGAST FIGHTS BAILIFFS.

The Proceedings in the Lumey Case Postponed Until Tuesday.

CHICAGO, March 26.—By an agreement of the interested attorneys Saturday the hearing of the insanity plea of Prendergast, the assassin of Mayor Harrison, was postponed until next Tuesday. During the arguments regarding the fixing of a date for the trial the remarks of the court were frequently interrupted by outbursts from the prisoner.

Finally, Prendergast, making a loud appeal for the right to speak, Judge Chetwin listened to a long harangue from him about his constitutional rights and his objections to death.

The prisoner, after he had completed his speech, frequently cried out: "We want no delay. We want the case to go to trial at once." The bailiffs were unable to quiet him.

Before he was removed from the courtroom, Prendergast became violently angry with the bailiffs, who attempted to silence him, and, screaming with rage, fought fiercely with the men about him. He was lifted from his feet by the bailiffs and carried back to his chair, but was finally allowed by the court to digress further upon his "constitutional rights."

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., March 26.—Hank Cunningham, a noted character in the territory, was shot and killed yesterday by W. J. McClure, a well known and wealthy stockman, in a saloon. Cunningham was drinking heavily, and evidently determined to quarrel. He finally said he was going to get his Winchester and kill McClure. He went out, and, just as he opened the door on returning, with gun in hand, McClure addled him with bullets.

How Much Rain Will Fall?

The Weekly Courier-Journal has a popular note in its weather guessing contest. A wonderful amount of interest was taken in its offer of $1,000 for the closest guesses to the coldest day and temperature during February, at Louisville, and much valuable information was gathered by subscribers on the subject. This contest has just been decided, there being twenty-eight lucky guessers. The Weekly Courier-Journal now makes another offer on the same line. For the closest guesses to the amount of rain that will fall at Louisville during the month of May, the Weekly Courier-Journal will give $1,000. This money will be divided into nineteen presents—one of $500, two of $100 each, two of $50 each, four of $25 each, and ten of $10 each. Each guess must be accompanied by $1, to pay for one year's subscription to the Weekly Courier-Journal, the best Democratic paper published. The rain-fall is scientifically measured, to the hundredth part of an inch. The heaviest rain-fall in May during the past twenty years was seven inches and forty-six hundredths of an inch. The lightest was one inch even. The measurements are made by the Government officials of the Weather Bureau at Louisville. Sample copies of the paper with full particulars of the contest, will be sent free to any address. Write at once, as under no circumstances will any guesses be received after April 30th. Address Weekly Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky.

River News.

The rise at Pittsburg brought the river to a stage of ten feet, and about 4,000,000 bushels of coal will come down on the wave.

The Silver Wave and M. P. Wells will deliver passengers and freight promptly at any point between Augusta and Vanceburg.

Captain Taylor reports that the Enos Taylor is doing a good business. The new boat does not go through to Augusta, but is making two trips daily between Higginsport and Maysville.

Louisville Post: "The report extensively circulated that the Sunshine has not been bought by the Big Sandy Packet Company, but by Commodore Laidley and a few other individual stockholders as an outside investment, is creating general surprise. The same apparently good authority says they bought her to charter to whatever company might at any time need her services. It is a noteworthy fact that her chimneys have never been encircled by the famous white collar."

Dr. Poynter Versus Dr. Young.

Mention was recently made that Rev. Dr. Poynter, of Shelbyville, a leading member of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, had addressed a circular to the South Methodist preachers of this State asking for their views on the question of organic union with the M. E. Church, and on the removal of the time limit from the pastorate.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Young, a Presiding Elder of the Louisville Conference, and who is well-known in Maysville, advised the preachers to ignore the circular. Dr. Poynter made last week a second appeal for replies and says: "Never mind Cardinal Young's orders through the Advocate. Vote your own conscience."

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50¢, for large bottle. At J. James Wood's drug store.

ABERDEEN Gretna Green.

"Ben Cox, of Maysville, filled the pulpit at Ebenezer and Fitch's Chapel last Sunday, March 18th, in the absence of the regular pastor, T. W. Williamson, who was filling the place of the Presiding Elder at Ripley. Mr. Cox preached an eloquent and instructive discourse at the M. E. Church here at night."
